

4 October 2022 (anonymous) – High level overview of TPM

Question:

A distributor has asked if we can provide a high-level overview of the TPM.

Response:

To help people understand the new TPM we have prepared resources about how it will work in practice. You can find a short Guide to the TPM and information sheets on aspects of the TPM online here: <https://transpower.co.nz/ourwork/industry/transmission-pricing-methodology>.

Further information sheets are currently in development. Over time, and as we work to implement the new TPM into prices, we intend to develop and share more information.

You can subscribe to our TPM Newsletter for alerts when new information material is published and other TPM-related updates. Sign up is via this page (scroll down):
